Richardson Retires

After 34 years of faithful and progressive service as General Manager of the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede, Mr. Richardson has handed in his resignation to the Board. It is impossible to estimate the value of the service he has rendered. Involving this annual event from a mere small town fair to the World renowned event has grown to be the fair he has rendered. Several new names have been recruited to the roll, which shows the interest in the Society is growing. Annual Reports were given, also the report of the Welfare Committee. Christmas work. Forty-one hampers were packed including gifts to 96 children; nine family hampers and fifteen individual boxes. The gifts which were all much appreciated, as shown by numerous letters received. Election of officers resulted in the same slate being returned in its entirety. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered these ladies for their faithful interest throughout the year. Particularly the president, Mrs. Nichol, who has been very zealous in the work of the Society.

A former motion of small parcels be sent to the boys overseas was acted on by the arranging of committees each month to card parties. The request from the Hockey Club again be held to raise funds for the work of the Society, the first to be held Tuesday, January 23, at 8 p.m.

A request from the Hockey Club that the Strathmore Society select a queen for the forthcoming Ice Carnival to be held in February was accepted and Miss Nichol was chosen as the Society's candidate.

CARD OF THANKS
The Society wish to express their very sincere thanks to the many who contributed so generously towards their Christmas Hampers.

From the wash the laundress sends My collar home with ravelled ends; Must fit, now these are frayed, My neck with new ones London-made.

How your collar, 'home-own' hearts, Wear to rips in foreign parts, Mine 't least' as good as done,
And— Must get a London one.

Shake hands, we shall never be friends All's over,

I only vex you the more I try, All's wrong that ever I've done or said, And ought to help it in this dull head;

Shake hands, here's luck, good bye.

But if you come to a road where danger, Or guilt or anguish at shame's to share,

Be good to the lad that loves you true And the soul that was born to die for you.

And while mine I'll be there.

WORLD OF WHEAT

(By H. G. L. Strange)

Director—The Crop Testing Plan

By I. H. Newman, the Dominion Cerealist, recently stated that 2,500 farmers in Manitoba and Saskatchewan were now reported to the Dominion Experimental Farms on their practical experience with the new and resistant wheat variety, "Regent"

(which is a product of the Dominion Plant Research Laboratory), grown in 1939 and in comparison with other varieties sown alongside.

The farmers' observations in brief are as follows—Yield—Regent gave an excellent account of itself.

Grasshoppers—Regent and Thatcher suffered less damage from grasshoppers than Renown, Renard or Marquis.

Stooling—It is a vigorous steeler and a good fighter against weeds.

Straw Strength—Very strong at the base of the plant, but not quite as flexible as Thatcher towards the top.

Appearance of Kernels—Color and plumpness were better than Thatcher but not quite equal to Renown, but this was considered a bad season for Regent.

Threshing—Regent threshed quite easily.

Resistance to Spraying Frosts—A number of growers reported that Thatcher stood the early June frosts better than other varieties, but Regent also was favorably commented upon.

Future Outlook—Judged by these reports, says Dr. Newman, Renown will be grown very extensively in 1940, and would appear to be a variety that has a very definite future.

EDMONTON LETTER

By T. B. Windsor

Edmonton, January 11.—The announcement made in Edmonton a few days ago that by far the greatest part of Canada's purchases of war supplies are to be made within the dominion came to an assurance that the funds to be raised soon by the nation's war loan will remain in the country, adding to the prosperity of all citizens in spite of war.

W. C. Woodward, Edmonton and Vancouver merchant, made the announcement. One of the three members of Canada's war supply board, he issued his statement when about to leave for Ottawa to take up his $1 a year job in supervising purchase of the materials which the dominion meets to carry on the war successfully.
Incidentally, Mr. Woodward proved his belief in Canada's economic and financial security by making it known that he has ordered a $150,000 to $200,000 addition to his firm's Edmonton office building.

At the same time, the Alberta government announced that it has established a trade office in Ottawa, to make sure that a Alberta business man's business comes to Alberta. The action had been recommended by the Edmonton chamber of commerce.
Said Mr. Woodward, "The fact that the cost will be among the one objective but all types of Alberta products, including farm and dairy goods will be pushed forward too.

The dominion's first war loan is expected within the next few weeks, the amount and the terms to be announced soon by Hon. J. L. Haultain, minister of finance. It will prevent strain on Canadians which would be caused by excessive taxation for war purposes, and it will prevent any need for reducing the country's living standard to meet it.

The dominion plans to borrow the real savings of the people, so as to owe as little as possible when the war is finished but to be indebted for what ever is owed at that time to the citizens of the country themselves. Because the country's funds will be held at home, the debt then is not likely to present any difficulties in the future.

Such a loan is the soundest and most profitable way of raising funds while still leaving the country's citizens with funds and not taxation, for there is no magic means of creating money it is explained. The Bank of Canada controls the amount of money which can exist in the dominion at any time, and the governor of the bank, Graham F. Towers, told the nation 11 months ago: "Money is not wealth: if it were, we could not have too much of it. But as it is, it is there to much money you may suffer from inflation—an artificial rise in prices through an excess of money."

As explained by Canada's financial experts, who are among the greatest in the world, the war loan avoids any possibility of reducing purchasing power in the nation or of harming savings depositors and creditors through reductions of the value of money. Even without the benefit of the loan and without benefit of added taxation in the four months since the war began, the cost of living has risen only four per cent in Canada.

The Debt Adjustment act—the latest vision of it—became last week the most recent Alberta statute to be declared invalid.

Mr. Justice A. F. Ewing ruled it ultra vires as far as it included promisory notes, bills of exchange and other negotiable papers. As a result, creditors do not need a permit from the debt adjustment board from now on, to enter suit for the recovery of money owing on a promissory note.

The report of Mr. Justice H. A. Mc-Gillivray and Major J. R. Lipsett, as members of the royal commission which has been investigating the Alberta oil industry for the past 15 months, still is being awaited this week. Among the most interesting of the suggestions made by the provincial government's counsel in the last days of the hearings was one that Calgary and Edmonton gasoline consumers be relieved of any share of the province wide distribution costs, leaving all those costs to be borne by consumers in the towns and rural areas of the province. The law, which was passed by J. J. Frawley, K. C., of the attorney general's department, was that retail dealers in the two cities should buy direct from the Calgary refineries the rest of the province being divided into zones, with the price of gasoline in each being sufficient to cover all its distribution costs. Mr. Frawley also recommended that free deliveries of gasoline should be stopped, the farmers either hauling their own supplies from the nearest depot or paying extra for it.

After his own selection of expert witnesses and testified that gasoline prices in Alberta are fair, apart from government taxes, and that companies are not making an unreasonable profit in Alberta, Mr. Frawley seemed to agree that fixed prices should not be established.

Calgary and Edmonton have seen, during the past few days, the man who Premier William Abernethy had declared "converted" him to Social Credit through a book on monetary reform —Marcel Colbourne, English actor.
As well as other plays, Mr. Colbourne presented a play of his own which is regarded as being monetary reform ist propaganda entitled "Charles the King." A sensationalized drama about Charles I of England, it presents a claim that Charles was deposed and decapitated 290 years ago because the financiers cut off his supply of funds.
Mr. Colbourne did not consider it necessary to emphasize in his play that Charles was notorious for forgetting about his debts, or that parliament beat the king because it was able to raise more money than he, or that the army finally took control of parliament because parliament refused to give the army its funds to which it was entitled. The moral in history, though not to the play, is that it is not to cheat only the people who can not fight back and whose services will not be needed later.

Mr. Colbourne, who is in Alberta, refused to answer any questions for a publication about Social Credit or about his opinion of Premier Abernethy or the Alberta Social Credit party's regular in government.

A 1940 election in Alberta became less certain as a result of a hint from Ottawa that the federal election originally scheduled for this year may be postponed, after all, because of the war crisis. But Premier Abernethy flooded the election campaign measures which his own party are taking already by charging that opposition groups would "flood the province with money, literature and propaganda to confuse the people." He told an audience at Oids that he was "sorry that you are going to be put to the test, because they will attempt to level the reputations of all of us."

THE LIONS' CLUB MINISTREL SHOW

The citizens of Strathmore and Community should give the Minstrel Show that will be staged by the local Lions in the Memorial Hall, Wednesday, January 31st a capacity house for two very good reasons.

First there will be ten talents to see some of our foremost dignified citizens, giving the "southern drawl" twist to their accustomed choice English enunciation, and trying to give to his naturally straight look the special "kick" that is so generally a feature of the "brutawags of the South".

We understand there are surprising galore and full amusement for the entire evening.

Above all this there is the exceedingly worthy object that the Lions' Club in Strathmore has undertaken to see through and towards which part of the money received from this Minstrel Show will be devoted.

It is the improving and making safe and sanitary the Swimming Pool at Lambert Park.

The vision of establishing this Pool was largely to the credit of Mr. Joe French.

The Pool was an unqualified boon to dozens of citizens large and small for two summers. Everything however needs repairing from time to time, lacking which the Pool deteriorated into a mere mud hole, uninviting and unsanitary. The Lions' Club is the latest star in the firmament of Strathmore's Service Clubs.

Its radiance will stimulate more and more brightly through the year and swimmers will call them blessed when it is theirs to have a clean pool of free running water, in which to refresh themselves on the summer days when the thermometer hovers around 80 in the shade.

The Town Planning Committee has a part in the beautifying of this health resort.

A sub-committee has formed at the general meeting held about two years ago, whose special duty it was to add to the beauty of the approaches to this special spot.

One member of this committee is one of our townsmen skilled in landscape gardening and with his committee following up the work of the Lions enterprise, we hope to see this now neglected spot, blossom as the rose making a very attractive setting for Strathmore's swimming pool.

Strathmore among small towns is especially fortunate in having a Park with the possibilities of beauty and enjoyment such as Lambert Park affords.

This will make a very commendable addition from which more will be inspired.

SANITY IN WAR FINANCING

Canada's forthcoming war loan readily be expected to match the pattern of financial policy that will be universally recognized as sound, and one that reflects the benefits of experience from the last great war.

Re-igniting the pitfalls of her experience in the last war, Canada, on this occasion, is facing the problem of war financing in a different manner. Canada's financial machinery has enabled her to set a course at the outset of the new world war that would have been virtually impossible in 1914; it will enable the Canadian people to avoid many of the demoralizing consequences of war, and post-war readjustments, such as have befallen Canada and many other countries in the last great conflict.

The new war loan, like probably all loans floated by Canada during this war, will be on a domestic basis. Canada will provide the principal and receive the interest. The debt will be owed to investors in Canadian funds, and will, therefore, not give rise to the difficult exchange problems and real burdens to the country which have been encountered in borrowing.

The Government hopes to see some of the real savings of the people converted into loans. The latest available figures show a total of $7,234,800,000 of savings accounts held by depositors in chartered banks, the highest figure in the history of the Canadian banking system. These deposits are held in over 4 million accounts, which probably means that one out of about every three people in Canada has a savings account. By converting real savings into war loan bonds, the individual can make a vital contribution to Canada's war effort, and at the same time secure for himself a safe and profitable investment.

The loan is open to popular subscription. Clearly the call is a strong one because the most emphatic demand is the moral obligation of every citizen to guard jealously the rights of freedom and shoulder his share of the bonds just as thousands of others are shouldering arms.

CANADA'S RAPID DEVELOPMENT

Canada is forging ahead in various lines of development, far beyond the dream of her Founders—the Fathers of Confederation.

This development is being rapidly enhanced by the condition of war prevalent in Europe.

While no right thinking person can feel gratification over the cause yet the development of our many resources the achieving of our heritage as a leading place among the nations of the world, and the earnest manner in which Canadians are realising their responsibility in striving to overthrow the forces of tyranny, oppression and the destruction of all the spiritual qualities of freedom that a Britisher holds dear, these are the qualities that develop a nationhood of men and women worthy of our broad Dominion.

CANADA'S MANY PROPS

In the first world war Canada was a house with one main prop—wheat. It was a sound prop and it strongly supported the Empire as well as the Dominion. We are fortunate to have that wheat prop today, but in a quarter century we have also developed other supports for our commonwealth. The indication of the increase in our manufacturing, more than half the population a new urban, according to the 1929 report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. We are known the world over for the progress of our mining. This year we are producing eight and a half million barrels of oil.

Canada is no longer a house with only one prop it is a house supported by many industries. All of them may be truly needed before this war is over. It is part of our job on behalf of civilization to keep them all strong.

Hats Off To Strathmore's Fire Brigade

Strathmore has not had any large fire recently, and we hope to be able to utter the same statement for many years to come. In the meantime we pay tribute to the men who volunteer their services in time of need.

One does not usually think of the volunteer fire department as a service club, say an Exchange. And yet we believe a speaker making a truth when he asserted on Monday night that the Fire Brigade is one of the most important service clubs in the community. In the first place it qualifies as a club because these men, with a common interest, develop a spirit of fellowship that is evidenced wherever (from time to time) they are placed, their service is not only valuable but commendable because of the spirit in which it is rendered. Volunteerism does not risk their lives and health and suffer bodily hardship for any pay they may get. They are willing to serve the community by protecting the lives and property of their fellow citizens and they deserve credit for it. Hats off to the firemen!

Bld. TOWN to N. 1—

January 16th has been set as the date for Edward G. Robinson's first Big Town, broadcast from New York City. The show will originate there for several weeks.

While Robinson takes his annual look at the new shows, heard over CFAC Tuesday, 6 p.m. MST.

NEW TALK SERIES

LITTED FOR WOMEN—

While sons and fathers are at the fighting front, mothers and housewives are enlisted for service at home. The executive duties and responsibilities of the home front fighters will be discussed in a series of talks by Mrs. H. H. Robinson commencing Monday, January 8th, 1940, 2:15 p.m. MST, from Toronto to CFAC.

In her first talk, entitled, "The Family Cook House," Mrs. Robinson will discuss the special problems of feeding the family during the war emergency, subsequent weekly talks will be heard by "The Home Troop Kit," "The Family Bliet," "The Young Recruits," "The Safety Patrol," and lastly, "The Fun Parade."

One of the best bits of pantomime exhibited in these parts convulsed CIBC control room crowd Sunday, when Orson Welles, while "on the air," tried to signal music director Bernard Hermann through double windows of adjoining studio that he wanted Beethoven's Turkish March, to conclude broadcast—Welles curled the ends of a Turkish moustache, patted a fat Turkish stomach, hoarsely bellowed "Kemal Pasha, sit down and pretend to smoke a hookah—Hermann, just plain puzzled, retaliated by weeping.

"Now boys," said Mr. Crellin, "I've got a word to say to you. We are good while on earth, when we die we will go to a place of everlasting bliss. But suppose we are not good. What will become of us?"

"Well go to a place of everlasting bliss," answered Vaughn McNeill.

One of Britain's bombing squadrons is billeted in a little French village, and to the inhabitants of that village the R. A. F. doctor has become known as "Big-Hearted Arthur". The village doctor, an aged man, cannot turn out at night and it is to "Arthur" that the 300 inhabitants turn when they are ill. One night an agitated mother came running to say that her daughter was having a baby. Would "Arthur" help?

"Arthur promptly rang up a French hospital many miles away and said: 'This is the R. A. F. I have a maternity case for you. There was a supposed pause, and then the operator stammered: 'Did you say a maternity case in the R. A. F.?' We don't know how they got it all straightened out, but it was a boy, and the proud mother is calling him Arthur."

Valley River.

Verna Mae: "Who is doing singing to much tonight, mother?"

Mrs. Gammon: "He is trying to sing the baby to sleep, dear."

Verna Mae: "Well if I was baby, I'd pretend I was asleep."

Lawyer: "Then your husband, I take it, is elderly?"

Client: "Elderly! Why, he's so old he gets winded playing chess."

 TELEGRAPH KEY
 USED BY EDISON

Calcutta, Ont.—In a talk to Calcutta public school pupils on the Canadian National Telegraphs service, C. M. Jackson demonstrated with a telegraph key used at one time by the late Thomas Edison. The old key came from a former Grand Trunk Railway station on the Stratford division, where Edison worked as an operator.

 THE REAPER

I am the Reaper.
 All things with heedful look silent I gather.
 Pale roses touched with the Spring, Fall corn in summer, Fruits rich with autumn, and frail winter blossoms—Reaping, still reaping—
 All things with heedful look timely I gather.

 I am the Sower

All the unbidden life Runs through my seed-sheet.
 Speed through the tangle and coil
 Of infinite matter,
 Each quickening the other,
 Fall through my hand: ever changing, still changing.

 I am the Reaper—

Life, inscrutable life, Flows from my seed-sheet.

 Maker and breaker,

I am the ebb and the flood,
 I live and I heretofore.

 Speed through the tangle and coil
 Of infinite matter,

Viewless and soundless I fashion all being

 I am the womb and the grave, The Now and the Ever

 (I Am The Reaper—by W. E. Henley)

 Young Alex (watching painter);

How many coats of paint do you give a door?

 Painter—Two, my boy.

 Young Alex (brightly)—Then if you gave it three coats it would be an overcoat.

 Painter—Yes, my lad, and a waste coat.
